

Right To Play (RTP) THATS.Krabi

15 January 2008

This letter is to certify that Mr Phanumas Sriprasom has collaborated with our organization during the community Play Day held in Krabi the 12th of January 2008.

His contribution as RTP photographer for the event was really appreciated. In his job we could witness specific abilities and an overall professional approach during the day and during the following meetings.

We therefore wouldn't hesitate in asking his collaboration again in the future or recommend him to other organizations or agencies that may need the kind of service he can successfully provide.

Right To Play is an International Humanitarian Organization that aims to the holistic development of all the children of the world by using playing and sport activities as tools to foster such development.

In Thailand we are working, supported by UNICEF, in the southern regions mostly affected by Tsunami. Apart from our founding partner our partnerships are also with the formal and non-formal educational sector and with the Krabi municipality.
